

EQUITY & INCLUSION SESSIONS

LISA M. JOHNSON, MBA, SHRM-SCP, LEADERSHIP COACH, TRAINING FACILITATOR, HR KNOW-HOW LLC

Lisa Johnson, SHRM-SCP, is an internationally experienced HR professional, skilled in small to medium group facilitation, keynote speaking, and leadership coaching. She has worked with leaders from numerous industries in the public and private sectors.

With over 25 years of proven experience as a human resources generalist, Lisa has worked for such notable organizations as Toyota, Unilever, and Tyco. Her training expertise reflects the intersection of leadership development and compliance awareness. She enjoys helping busy organizations and HR professionals develop their leaders and believes that bringing humanity and consistency to their interactions is key to personal growth and employee relations risk avoidance. Her book, "Imagination @Work: Shifting Boundaries in the Modern Workplace," provides insight for managers to communicate with confidence and clarity when handling difficult employee situations.

Lisa possesses a BBA in Personnel/Industrial Relations from the University of Kentucky and an MBA from Lewis University. She is an adjunct faculty member for Lewis University.

She is a member of the National Speakers Association and 2021 Past President for the Louisville Society for Human Resources Management. She serves as a board member for Catholic Charities of Louisville, Town and Country Bank and Trust Company, and Bardstown Foundation for Excellence in Public Education. Lisa is a native and resident of Bardstown, Kentucky.